Lost in the Meritocracy: The Undereducation of an Overachiever

By Kirn, Walter

Anchor, 2010. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: "A funny, self-mocking memoir about how persistently Mr. Kirn went astray. . . . Great fun." -The New York Times "The witty, self-castigating story of the author's single-minded quest to succeed at a series of tests and competitions that took him from one of the lowest-ranked high schools in Minnesota to Princeton." -The New York Times Book Review "Very few people could get away with complaining about attending Princeton University, but Walter Kirn does. . . . Darkly hilarious." -The Plain Dealer "Scathing and funny. . . . Too delicious." -Newsweek "Hilarious. . . . Kirn recounts the many ways that the America educational rat race betrayed him." - The Washington Post Book World "Tough, funny, and moving. . . . What's such great fun about the book is the intense good humor with which he looks back, and the wonderful portraits he provides of the side characters in his life. . . . There's a kind of joyous cackle behind these colorful scenes, and a sadness, too, both finally giving way to a clean-edged wisdom that infiltrates his story as he leads us toward...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
